

EMS Brings on Marketing Exec & Engineers

Tampa, Florida – Monday, November 8, 2010 – EMS, Inc.

EMS Inc., the premier provider of rapid product development equipment and services including Z Corp 3D Printers and 3D Scanners, is excited to announce the hiring of three new employees to its corporate headquarters located in Tampa, Florida.

“We are delighted to welcome these talented new members to the EMS team,” said President & CEO Mark Kemper. “We continue to add staff as a result of our rapidly growing client roster and continued loyal customers, which includes some of the world’s leading global consumer brand companies.”

New Hires:

Eric Wenham, Marketing Director

Prior to joining the EMS team, Eric has had proven success with both sales and marketing in several diverse industries. He was a key player in organizing and developing a successful awards conference for a non-profit organization that services promotion and marketing professionals working in broadcast media. Mr. Wenham followed on his early success working in the healthcare care field in San Francisco. While there, he tripled annual revenues of his branch office from $1,500,000 to $5,000,000. His office was then recognized corporate-wide as the “Office of the Year”, selected from over 300 other branches. Eric then moved to Florida and invested in a large startup that deals in the consumer electronics industry. With all his past success in sales and marketing, he was able to grow the company’s reputation and awareness to new levels. Eric’s responsibilities at EMS will include branding, public relations, social media, online marketing, and developing product and sales collateral.

Eric earned a Bachelor of Science in Public Affairs and in Public Finance Management from Indiana University.

EMS’s growth does not stop there; they have also hired two additional mechanical engineers that will help with the increase demand in their rapid prototyping and 3D Scanning services. EMS continues to expand into these markets because of their ability to deliver high quality, affordable prices and in a timely manner. With their consistent work philosophy in place, they continue to gain and diversify market shares while others struggle.
