EMS Opens New Office

Engineering & Manufacturing Services Inc (EMS), the number one provider of Z Corporation 3D Printers and 3D Scanners, has opened a new office in Atlanta, GA. Based in Tampa, FL, EMS sells 3D scanning, rapid prototyping and 3D design products and services throughout the southeast region.

In 2007 EMS significantly increased their customer base in the southeast. "Having an office based in Atlanta will allow us to quickly react to our customers needs", according to Mark Kemper, President and CEO. "Our customers have come to expect a level of sales, support and service not found elsewhere and being closer to them further strengthens our position", Kemper continues.

EMS's new customers include Lockheed Martin, Robins AFB, Lund, McWane Science Center, Medical University of South Carolina, General Dynamics, NASA, Roper, Redstone Arsenal and many others.
